3:43 PM

Austin Wakefield

3:43 PM

Austin Wakefield

3:43 PM

Nobody Ward

Actually it is an opportunity for internship

3:44 PM

Austin Wakefield

Okay...

3:45 PM

Austin Wakefield

Probably too hard...

3:45 PM

Austin Wakefield

Let's do it!

3:45 PM

Nobody Ward

challenge is graded on a standardized scale that allows everyone a fair shot. If you do great, that's great! If you just do okay, that's totally okay!

3) Should you pass the challenge, we'll do 2 technical phone interviews. These give you a chance to talk to consultants about the company, as well as a way to see if you have any talents and skills that might not be measured by our challenges.

4) Should you do well in the phone interviews, we give you an offer, which you accept, and we all live happily ever after.

The homework mentioned refers to The Web Application Handbook, which details in great length the things to look for in a web app pen test and how to document said findings. We would send you a complimentary eCopy of the book along with some practice links for you to use in preparation for the challenges and interviews at your convenience. Once you

Our hiring process is a bit different than most places. Here is an overview of what to expect:

1) We'll give you some homework. Don't feel bad, over 99% of our candidates get homework. The purpose of this homework is to set you up for success in our hiring process; we're always looking for ways to hire people, not ways to say no to people. Do this homework at your own pace. We do have limited intern slots for the summer, but we want you to be confident in the material before moving forward.

2) The challenge. This is the most important part of our hiring process. It's a bite-sized portion of the work that we do every day. Hopefully, you should enjoy it. The challenge is designed to take 2-6 hours for most people. Like the homework, you do this on your own schedule. The intern challenge is the web app challenge. We give you access to a web application, you find vulnerabilities in it and tell us what they are. The
